There Is Hope, and a Roadmap to the Emancipation of Humanity

DONATE GENEROUSLY to make this hope a reality

Your contribution will spur and accelerate the movement for liberating fundamental change, for a real revolution to cast off the system that is hurtling humanity towards the brink.

The very dangers we face in this moment of extreme crisis and sharp irreconcilable divisions in U.S. society holds the potential for what has seemed impossible to become possible.

If you care — and you do,

- You know the hour is late to save the environment.
- You suppress dread that the war in Ukraine and the saber-rattling with China could lead to unthinkable global nuclear catastrophe.
- You fear and sense that any relief you felt from midterm elections is empty as one third of the country voted for fascists who are hardening, with talk of civil war bandied about.
- You are outraged that the fundamental right of women to control their own future has been stripped away, and you rightly fear that theocratic fascists won't stop with this.
- You seethe with rage that police murder of Black and Brown people continues unabated two years after George Floyd.
- You don't even want to ponder that the plight of refugees and immigrants at the border is not fundamentally different than under Trump.

If this is you, isn't now the moment to break out of your comfort zone and act on your discomfort with the way things are heading?

Doing so by donating generously to the movement that is bending every fiber of our beings to bring about a real solution to all these outrages in the only way that humanity could really move beyond all this brutal and even existential oppression — preparing now for a real revolution in a moment when it could be possible.

In The BA Interviews on The RNL Show, referencing the situation in the world today, Bob Avakian makes this clear statement:

We can no longer afford to allow these imperialists to dominate the world and to determine the destiny of humanity. They need to be overthrown as quickly as possible.

—Bob Avakian

There are questions: Is an actual revolution necessary? Is it possible and why? Can humanity really move beyond a world of inequality with everyone out for themselves? Can the revolution we are fighting for really put the world on a radically better, liberating course? What kind of leadership is needed to accomplish this?

There are answers, none more comprehensive, none more filled with heart and soul for how a revolution could bring about a society where people could really flourish than in the recent trio of Interviews with the revolutionary leader Bob Avakian. In these Interviews he shows how it is possible to overcome all forms of oppression and exploitation by people working together in a radically different way than is possible today.

Bob Avakian draws from the lives of people of the whole world, especially those who bear the brunt and suffer the boot of this oppressive system. He tells of his own life experience growing up in Berkeley, California, his experience working with the leaders of the Black Panther Party in their early revolutionary days, and he tells how he came to recognize and fill a great need—charting a course for a real revolution here in the most powerful country in history and developing a new framework for the emancipation of humanity which we call the new communism.

In a break with past revolutions, BA insists that the new communism thoroughly repudiates and is determined to root out of the communist movement the poisonous notion, and practice, that “the ends justify the means.”

Take a minute or an hour to think about this. Watch the Interview. Compare this to the politics and the poisonous culture that saturates society today, and think about the possibilities this opens up.

For this vision and the possibility of fundamental revolutionary change to be realized there needs to be a force—a revolutionary people in their thousands that can grow to millions. To forge this force, to put this revolution on the map, contending with all the non-solutions, your financial support is decisive.

The People... the Show... the Website

Your donation today will enable this cohort of revolutionaries—the Revcoms—of different nationalities, genders, and ages to go out to shake up the world and forge a movement to change the face of everything. A group of tested revolutionary leaders and a cohort of committed young revolutionaries have concentrated in Los Angeles to develop a model that can be replicated and grow nationally.

Your donation will give an immediate boost to the ability to promote The Bob Avakian Interviews on The RNL—Revolution, Nothing Less!—Show very broadly in society, and will also support the expansion of the production and promotion of The RNL—Revolution, Nothing Less!—Show—the national YouTube voice of the Revcoms. During the pandemic, the LA cohort learned from scratch how to create and produce this most radical show online.

Your donation will also make possible the ongoing needs to produce the website revcom.us that gives unique analysis of major events and trends, guides the movement for revolution and which features the major works of Bob Avakian.

There is the possibility of wrenching a positive emancipating future out of the existential crises, the madness of today. There is a foundation and roadmap in a seminal work by Bob Avakian for this moment in history, Something Terrible, OR, Something Truly Emancipating, available at revcom.us. There is a group of revolutionaries in Los Angeles with contingents in NY, Chicago and the Bay Area, ready to do the work, there is The RNL—Revolution, Nothing Less!—Show that is featuring the Bob Avakian Interviews, and there is revcom.us.

What is needed is you.

There is no greater need, no greater love, no more important cause at this moment in history. A radically different and far better world is possible. Your donation today will contribute to putting this emancipating potential on the map.
