

Revcoms Stomp and Burn Flags at Jason Aldean Show in Tinley Park, IL Tune in to a Fundraising/Q&A Livestream

Sunday, September 17, 2pm PT / 4pm CT / 5pm ET

Tune in and meet the revcoms who created a political shit-storm nationally, and even internationally, when they CALLED OUT Jason Aldean and his fascist lynching song "Try That in a Small Town" right at his concert – stomped and burned a flag and vowed to do it again. This was done as part of putting revolution on the map at this moment when things are sharpening up everywhere and overall.

Tune in and donate to help spread this—and put revolution on the map.

Rafael Kadaris and some members of the Chicago Revolution Club will appear live and tell the story of how they marched right up the entrance of his concert and stomped and burned the American flag in defiance of his lynch mob anthem and the whole fascist MAGA movement he fronts for.

They declared that they are burning the American rag because it stands for slavery, genocide and war, and that the revcoms are getting organized right now for a revolution to get rid of the system of capitalism-imperialism and demand a whole new way for people to live – in this country and all over the world.

Photos, videos and headlines about this action exploded on the internet and in social media – putting revolutionary communism boldly onto the map in a major way.
