statement on

"This is not a time for demoralization
and despair— it is a time for righteous anger and revolutionary determination."

These are the words from the revolutionary leader Bob Avakian, written right after the election. In the face of the Trump MAGA fascist regime's onslaught of fascist terror,
this is the understanding and orientation needed by millions.

Big questions are before humanity. Bob Avakian, who has developed the new communism, addresses this like no one else. He goes up against the refusal of too many to confront and name what we're really facing: FASCISM. He lays bare the reality, the stakes, and what is to be done.

- Where did this fascism come from and how can it be defeated?
- What is the nature of the system that's given rise to this nightmare, and so many other atrocities?
- In a moment of existential danger and positive possibility, what's worth putting it all on the line for?

And most fundamentally, Bob Avakian digs into the fact that there is a radically different way we could be living, a fundamentally different system that is not just urgently necessary, but is really possible.

What people do and don't do, what they accept and what they fight for, depends on what they understand. In a time of great danger and confusion, Bob Avakian is providing the understanding that people need—the leadership, clarity, direction and revolutionary vision...the scientific understanding of what's happening, why and what their historic role is now.
